

Daniel Akinpelu

Youth Pastor

I have been involved in ministry for around 5 years, and have had the privilege to personally see the Lord move in so many powerful ways in my life and in the lives of others. I grew up attending Christian schools and originally found my passion for serving the Lord in music-related ministry when I first began leading with the band for my youth group. That passion carried me through Liberty University in Virginia where my ministry involvement grew each year. I became progressively more involved in youth ministry as I joined two different travel ministry teams over the course of 4 years and was able to see many souls come to Christ. After college, I relocated to Memphis, TN, and began my career at Bellevue Baptist Church as a songwriter and recording engineer for the church's media ministry. While there, I grew in my walk with the Lord and my passion for youth ministry even more as the Lord continually equipped me for the ministry he had before me.
